RESUME 1972

Despite the twentieth century's complex mechanization and automation, the most delicate and skilled tool, the human hand, remains. The same hand that designs the most intricate rocket system also affectionately strokes a new-born baby and surgically saves lives. And through this tool united with the mind, the task of creation becomes a function.

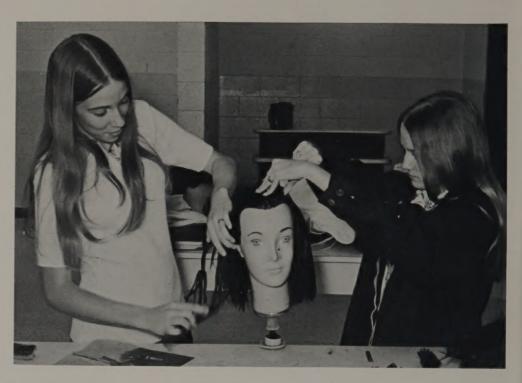

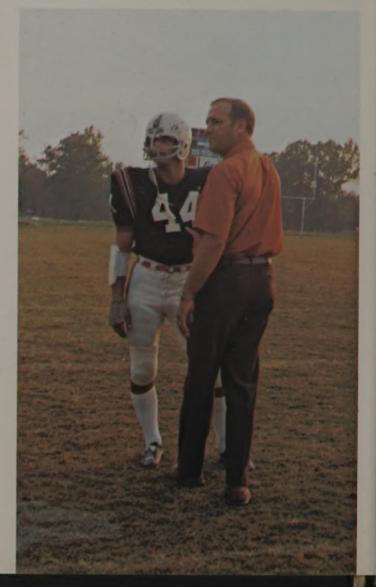

But no tool left to itself will create anything of value . . .

... Both hand and mind require guidance and training to attain their full capacity for proficiency.

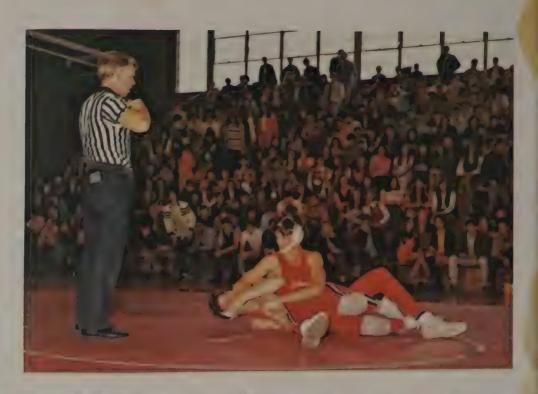

Yet the pace of time allows for diversions of joy, serenity, and hopes . . .

. . . But achievement develops from attentive labor and through dedication springs the fulfillment of these hopes.

Thus the willing I'm sure gladhands of today must that it had a complete the undone tencher like you tasks of yesterday. You have been very unducting even throw all my troubles if you had not of listen and haped me a would have Problemen never made it. You made mey life worth living, and with your help I'm a better person. He waitter, thinks you and own chats.

It is our hope that this annual will enable us to turn back the hands of time so that we may
again experience
those events which form our past and serve as guides to our future.

New Vocational Wing Adds To Excitement of Beginning of School

Sophomore orientation proved to be as exciting for sophomores as in years past. Student Council members acted as guides during the session and attempted to answer the endless questions about the school and faculty from the bewildered sophomores. The orientation began with an assembly and later the sophomores were divided according to homerooms where they were familiarized with their schedules.

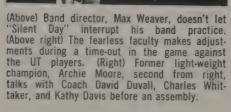

The newly constructed vocational wing offers different fields of study for the students. Cosmetology opens up a unique course for girls interested in grooming and beauty techniques. Vocational drafting, electronics, and auto mechanics make school courses attractive to boys while office practices trains students for future jobs in business.

1972 is Highlighted by A Potpourri of Events

A potpourri of events has kept this year in a fast moving pace. The activities ranged from "Silent Day" to a bomb scare.

"Silent Day," October 8, was a deafening experience. A rigid rule of no talking was upheld in the classrooms and halls by teachers and students. The only means of communication were notes and sign language. The quiet terminated that afternoon at a pep session for the Franklin County game.

The second annual Tullahoma Jazz festival added a swinging note to January. Stage Bands from all over the Southeast competed for trophies and the $150 prize. The Tennessee Tech Troubadors were the main attraction. Before the festival, THS was the host for the Jazz Clinic. The clinic was highlighted by a workshop conducted by percussionist, Deryl Goes.

The month of February shot off with the fearless faculty challenging the UT players to a game of basketball. Although the faculty was defeated, the evening was full of fun and good spirits.

After weeks of postponment, the girls finally had their day. The "Sadie Hawkins" Dance was held March 11. Music was provided by the Mayflower Compact.

An array of assemblies broke the pattern of everyday life at THS proving both entertaining and informative. One of the most outstanding programs was given by former light-weight boxing champion, Archie Moore, on the topic of working together. Another entertaining assembly was a performance by MTSU's Drama Club.

The 1972 school year was full of exciting and enriching events. They have added to the life of THS to make it a year always remembered.

Bonfire Prevails over Dreary Weather as It Ignites School Spirit

Cloudy skies could not dampen the enthusiasm displayed over homecoming. The student body worked diligently preparing for the festivities to come. "Wildcats vs. Wildcats" hampered the choice of themes but imagination won out.

Thursday night's bonfire started the wheels of spirit rolling. The band's vigorous fight songs and the cheerleaders' boisterous cheers led the students in an anticipation of victory.

ant. (Bottom Right) Lynn Cowie and Nancy Alexander, flower girl, grace the Homecoming court as sophomore attendant.

Enthusiasm for Parade Outweighs Threatening Skies

"Hail to the Varsity" and "Down the Field" set the tempo for the Homecoming parade. Hard work Thursday night and during study hall paid off by making the most colorful and unusual parade ever. Because of its original theme, "Ice the Burg," the Junior Class Float took first place. Other additions to the parade were the Sophomore Float, "Undermine the Gold," and the Senior Float, "Kick 'Em Cats." The Key Club won first place in the car division with a little car disguised as a telephone. Its theme was "Dial a THS Victory." Even under ominous skies, spirits were not dampened as anticipation mounted toward the Homecoming game.

Thunder, lightning and multitudes of rain caused the football game to be postponed until Monday. Because of the distance between Tullahoma and Lawrenceburg, the game was scheduled for 5:00 p.m. In spite of this, the dance continued as planned. The music of "Annabel" started the evening at 9:00. This was the first dance to which students could invite people not attending the school. The band continued playing until 1:00 a.m. The homecoming festivities were then put aside until the following Monday.

Another first for THS was the ballgame which was played during the daylight. The afternoon was highlighted by the coronation of Virginia Martin as Homecoming Queen.

Senior Class Presents Mystery Comedy "All Because of Agatha"

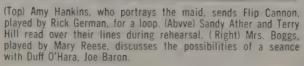

Witchcraft and the supernatural were the themes of "All Because of Agatha," a comedy presented by this year's seniors with the help of sponsors, Miss Fredia Flack, Mrs. Pat Jones, and Mrs. Lorine King.

The weeks spent working on the set and the costumes and the endless hours of rehearsal proved very worthwhile. The curtain rose at 8:00 p.m. to start off an evening full of fun and laughter.

The play is centered around the return of Agatha, the witch who has haunted the house for one hundred years. Cartoonist, Duff O'Hara and his wife Joan decide to make a party of the visit. They invite the doctor next door and his mother, who is a medium. The visit of Joan's aunt and the arrival of reporter Flip Cannon add unexpected complications to the festivities.

Class of 1972 Share Toasts, Food, and Fun at Senior Banquet

The Seniors of 1972 began their day of honor with the invocation given by Kevin Dawson. Tommy Anderton, president of the Senior Class, followed with a short speech of welcome.

Entertainment was provided by a singing group composed of director Marilyn Hazelip, Tommy Anderton, Hal Puckett, Susan Smith, and Joe Baron. Accompanied by Kathy Heroth and John Millilo on the guitar, the group sang their own version of various Christmas tunes. The guest speaker was Reverend Tom Rousseau, whose message dealt with the three images of man.

The banquet was brought to a close as the members of the class left in good spirits to start the Christmas holidays.

Intraschool competition in basketball was exciting this year. The Junior Class proved to be superior with coaches, Joanne Johnson, Cindy Osborne, Wayne Jordan and Kyle Bills. The hard-fighting Seniors followed a close second with coaches, Dorothy Snoddy, Charlotte Whittaker, Jim Fuqua, and Phil Pindzola, while Sophomores traditionally brought up the rear with coaches, Diane Grogan, Pam Wright, Joe Pigott and Bill Bethman.

The games were quite controversial over the selection of referees as each class held eager anticipation for victory.

Chosen from the players was an all-tournament team consisting of Susan Harris and Jim House, Seniors; Brenda Weaver and David Patton, Juniors; with Kim Staffino and Ricky Pless as Sophomore members. The games were brought to an end with a Junior versus Faculty game. Although the Juniors were superior in class competition, they were no match for the elders of our school.

Upcoming Student Council Election Foretold by Colorful Campaign Posters

The usually drab walls came alive March 13 to herald the elections for the Student Council officers of 1972-73. The walls were covered with colorful campaign posters and slogans. The already hectic halls were made more so by students stopping to comment about the campaigns and signs.

The candidates put in a hard week of campaigning with speeches, slogans, and posters. Running for President were Bing Bragg, Beth Thoma, Pat Waye, Lawrence Goldberg, and David Ward. Candidates for Vice-President were Matt Bennett, Greg Reaves, Mark Ehemann, Susan Jennings, Julie Juer, and Bobby Ward. Seeking the office of Secretary were Luann Grissom, Susan Thompson, Gina Speck, and Stephanie Bell. Contenders for Treasurer were Elizabeth Ross and Valerie Schulz.

Ballots Declare That Bragg, Bennett, Grissom and Ross Head 1972-73 Student Council

As the hectic week of campaigning for Student Council offices came to an end, disappointment was coupled with joy. The election processes began in homeroom as students voted for the candidates of their choice. After all the votes were tabulated, the results were announced at break. Although the offices of President and Treasurer had been decided, the anxiety was not ended. The Vice-Presidency and Secretarial offices remained to be decided by a runoff.

When the election returns were finally counted, the new Student Council Executives were named. They are Bing Bragg, president; Matt Bennett, vice-president; Luann Grissom, secretary; and Elizabeth Ross, treasurer.

Seniors Create "South of the Border" Setting for Miss Tullahoma Pageant

The Senior Class went south of the border to capture a romantic Spanish atmosphere for its final class project, the 1972 Miss Tullahoma Pageant. Coordinating the contest was Miss Trellis Northam with Senior Class President, Tommy Anderton, serving as her assistant. Mrs. Blanche McClure was the coordinator of the Little Miss Tullahoma Contest. Members of the class and sponsors worked throughout the week to prepare programs, seating arrangements, and the distinctive setting.

Miss Tullahoma and Little Miss Tullahoma's thrones were made of wrought iron accented with bright red cushions. There were flowing branches of dogwood trees and a bright yellow moon suspended above the thrones depicting a romantic Spanish scene. Bright colored flowers of crepe paper adorned each side of the stage with a donkey pinata standing near the stage entrance.

Huell Howser, feature reporter for WSM-TV, served as master of ceremonies. Steve Austin, a sophomore at THS, sang "Miss Tullahoma" as the royal procession made its traditional walk. Organ music was provided by Mrs. Dottie Culberson as each contestant made her entrance.

The Far East Serves as Oriental Setting for Annual Spring Formal

Cherry blossoms, ming trees, and paper poppies provided the atmosphere of the Far East for the annual Spring Formal. The gymnasium was transformed into an oriental temple with two majestic, fluorescent green Buddhas, a traditional Chinese garden, and white hanging lanterns. East met West with the soulful sound of the "Dynamic Technique Revue."

The underclassmen spent many long hours under the guidance of Mrs. Jimmie Lou Smith preparing the gym for the evening. Colorful Chinese fans were given as keepsakes. Mr. Stanley Pearson was busy taking photographs of attending couples so that the memory of their "Oriental Evening" could be preserved forever.

ATHLETICS

Cats Have Big Wins over Chattanooga City and Manchester Red Raiders

The highlight of the '71 season was the 14-0 win over Manchester which returned the traditional Coffee Pot to the THS trophy case. This was the first Tullahoma victory over the Raiders in four years.

The new head coach, Hulan Watson, directed the Cats while his assistants Kelton Garner, Tony Matusek, and David Duvall added their valuable experience. Coach Watson came to us from Moore County and Coach Matusek from Franklin. This was Coach Duvall's first coaching position while Coach Garner has been coaching at THS for three years.

The Wildcat squad ended their '71 season with a 28-13 victory over Lebanon, bringing the season record to 4-5-1. It was a season that saw Jimmy Duvall kick an extra point enabling the Cats to down ninth ranked Chattanooga City.

Additional competitive spirit was aroused through the Player of the Week awards presented by the Booster Club to the best offensive and defensive player. Players winning the offensive honors for the season were: Eric Smith, proving things come better in pairs by winning the award twice, Jimmy Duvall, Mike Billingsley, Ricky Cheshire, Bradd Holden, and Arthur Howard. Outstanding defensive gridders were Frank Greene, Rex Birdsong, and Mitchell Van Hook.

All CTC recognition went to Tony Long and Ed Burns. Burns, a junior, won the award for his performance at tackle. Long triumphed over a change in position and an injury to win the award for a second consecutive year.

THS Harriers Stride Smoothly Over a Long Hard Season to Capture Place in State Meet

Coming from a two and four dual-meet record, the THS Harriers pulled a seventh place in the State Meet. Included in the four losses were defeats to the State champ, Clarksville, and one to runner-up Murfreesboro. In both the Lipscomb Invitational and the A. F. Bridges invitational, Tullahoma placed third. There were approximately twenty-six schools participating in both meets.

The top striders for the Cross-Country team included returning lettermen Gary Cantrell, Chester Daniel, Roger Gall, Randy Smith, and John Warren. Strength and speed were added by Steve Austin, Matt Bennett, Mark Niblack, and Bobby Nichols. Team spirit was further aroused by the addition of "The Chicken," which became the team mascot.

Coach Milner Carden is expecting to have a top team next season, as he will be losing only three seniors, Smith, Gall, and Cantrell.

After a bout with the flu, Jerry Davidson (Above) holds out to win by a decision against Murfreesboro. (Below) Frank Greene tries desperately to add another victory to an already great season.

Days Comes True

Addition of a coach, and more experience added to a better season for the THS matmen. Coach Kelton Garner's new partner, Tony Matusek, came to us from Franklin.

The THS wrestlers started the season off right by winning their first match of the season over St. Andrews. Other matches won were Lebanon, CMA, and BGA. THS students watched our men tie a match with CMA as well as a win over Franklin. East and West Junior High Schools received their first opportunity to view the new sport when the matmen performed against BGA and Murfreesboro in front of their student bodies.

In the district tournament at McGavock High School in Nashville, John Warren captured first place in the 155-pound class. John's championship trophy is the first for THS. Others placing in the top five of their respective weight classes were Frank Greene and Arthur Howard, who placed second, and Matt Barnett, Jerry Davidson, and Vince Eggleston, placing fourth.

The Wildcat Booster Club honored wrestlers with winning seasons. They were: Lee Cleveland, Jerry Davidson, Frank Greene, undefeated Arthur Howard, and John Warren.

Dedication, Hard Work and Good Sportsmanship Are Characteristics of Wildcats

The THS Wildcat's 1971-72 basketball season was packed with surprises and disappointments. The Cats posted a 9-10 seasonal record with big wins over Lawrenceburg, Shelbyville, and Fayetteville. Overpowering defeats were seen against Sparta and Franklin County.

The Wildcat team was characterized by hard work, good sportsmanship, and dedication. Outstanding players included returning veterans, Jim Fuqua, Brad Holden, Kyle Bills, and Phil Pindzola. Transfer students Jimmy Duvall and Wayne Jordan added extra

The high-scoring Cat was Jim Fuqua and running close for second was Jimmy Duvall. Seniors Phil Pindzola and Jim Fuqua were co-captains, being looked up to as the men with the most experience.

Determination and Pride Bring Third Place Showing In District for THS Cats

THS Wildcats finished in the 1972 tournament games third in the district after defeating Huntland and Bell Buckle. The regional games proved too tough for the Cats. After defeating the difficult Loretto team, the semi-finals saw Tullahoma lose to Shelbyville, the district champs. This put them out of the tourney.

Jim Fuqua, Jimmy Duvall, and Kyle Bills were awarded a place on the All Tournament team for district sixteen. Jim Fuqua was named a Regional All Tournament player. Principal Creed McClure, president of the Central Tennessee Conference, announced in April Jim Fuqua and Jimmy Duvall had been named to the CTC team.

THS Girls Roll Up A 14-5 Season Record

The 1971-72 Wildkitten team mixed outstanding spirit with great ball coordination to complete an impressive 14-5 season.

The regular season saw losses to Manchester, Fayetteville, and Warren County. Outstanding wins were posted against Unionville, Flintville, Lynchburg, and the first game against Fayetteville.

The high-scoring Kitten was Terri George, with 427 points. Second was Denise Rousseau. Charlotte Whittaker was named to the Nashville Banner All-District team in February. Co-captains, named by the entire team, were Dorothy Snoddy and Charlotte Whittaker. Terri George and Charlotte Whittaker were named to the All-CTC team in April by Mr. Creed McClure, president of the Central Tennessee Conference.

Other outstanding players included forwards, Dorothy Snoddy and Diane Grogan, and guards, Joanne Johnson and Elizabeth Niblack. Managers who worked equally hard were Amy Hankins, Julie Hutson, and Susan Carr.

Wildkittens Make History; Advance to Sub-State

THS Wildkittens wound up tournament games with an impressive tournament record of 5 wins and three losses. The Kittens rolled through district games with one loss to Manchester and turned up as number two in the region with one loss to Manchester, a thrilling 31 to 30 defeat. Kittrell, top-rated team of the Region, defeated the THS girls in the first round of sub-state playoff tournaments at Murfreesboro. The girls played a good game and lost 46 to 50. The 4 points could have meant a trip to the state tourney at Jackson, Tennessee.

Players named to the all-tournament district team were Terri George and Charlotte Whittaker. Players named to the all-region team were: Terri George and Denise Rousseau, forward and Charlotte Whittaker and Cindy Osborne, guards.

Tullahoma Gymnastics Team Takes Second Place in State Competition

The Tullahoma Gymnastics Team composed of Tullahoma boys from elementary to senior high ages for the first time, took second place in state-wide competition this year. The team also placed second in the district meet and third in the South Eastern Regional.

Coach Randy Wilson, athletic coach for West Junior High, began building a gymnastics team last year as junior and senior high boys entered in gymnastics competition. Returning as senior high gymnasts this year are Terry McCabe and Rudy Moore with David Byrd, Marc Gonzales, and Kevin Nee advancing from junior to senior high competition.

Intra-Team Challenges Create Enthusiasm Among THS Tennis Racketeers

Intra-team challenge matches between meets, practice during school hours, and involvement among the team members account for the whole-hearted enthusiasm of the Wildcat tennis teams. Although this is the third year for tennis at THS, Coach Tommy Whitaker is in his first year of coaching the sport. The intra-team challenges, an idea of Coach Tommy Whitaker, enable players to rise on the playing scale as skill permits.

The team has met with defeat for the most part this season due to a late start and inexperience while playing schools such as Webb, Sewanee, Brainerd, and Columbia. Coach Tommy Whitaker has high hopes for next year since many team members will be returning.

Tullahoma High School Track Team Shatters Three School Records

Susan Smith, (Right) THS record-keeper, and Coach Milner Carden measure Manchester's shot-put attempt. Jimmy Duvall (Above) hurls the host-put off the mound.

The THS track team set three school marks on its way to win the Optimist Meet. The versatile John Warren broke the school record when he pole-vaulted twelve feet and two inches. The two-mile relay team, composed of Randy Smith, Chester Daniel, Bob Reeder, and John Warren, broke the record of eight minutes, and seventenths seconds by running it in eight minutes, and two-tenths seconds. The four hundred and forty yard relay team composed of Hal Puckett, Rudy Moore, Bob Ragsdale, and Dennis Nesbitt, set a new record of forty-three and eight-tenths seconds.

Coach Milner Carden's squad scored victories over such top-rated teams as Murfreesboro, Antioch, and Maplewood High Schools. Assisting Coach Carden was Coach Stan Pearson.

THS Striders Breeze Through 1972 Season; Look to State Title

THS track and field squads breezed through the 1972 season in true winning form and expect victories in the Mid-State Invitational and Regional competitions.

Graduating seniors Bob Reeder, Jim Fuqua, Denis Nisbett, Hal Puckett, Jim House, and Randy Smith will leave big gaps in the 1973 team. Coach Milner Carden hopes next year's sophomores will fill these gaps. Outstanding members for next year include Chester Daniel, John Warren, Jimmy Duvall, John McFadden, Bob Ragsdale, Rudy Moore, and Bobby Nichols.

The versatile Rudy Moore arches his back in an attempt to clear the high-jump pole.

THS Baseball Squad Sparks Mid-Season Record of 13-2

The Wildcat baseball team relied heavily upon its hitting ability in posting a mid-season record of 13-2. Ricky German proved to be the most consistent hitter with a .400 average. Second was Ricky Cheshire with a .360 average followed by Tommy Anderton with a .350 average.

Coach Jerry Mathis and Coach Verlon Fuller saw excellent pitching from Tommy Anderton, Bobby Branch, Jerry Farrar, Ricky German, and Bobby Mines. The Wildcat baseball team saw nine returning lettermen this year: Rex Birdsong, Alan Harris, Ricky German, Tommy Anderton, Bobby Mines, Frank Greene, Dene Mosely, and Gary McCullough.

This year saw games being played at night which is a first for THS. The team achieved big wins over Manchester, Shelbyville, and Grundy County. The only two losses were to Murfreesboro.

1972 Sluggers Hold High Hopes of Wins in District and Regional Competition

Beginning practice in the fall, the Wildcat baseball squad has worked hard in an attempt to retain their district championship. Both coaches and squad anticipate successful tournament action in the district and regional competition.

Coach Mathis states that hopefuls for next year are: Kyle Bills, Bobby Branch, Ricky Cheshire, Jerry Farrar, Dale Mosely, Chuck Partin, Glenn Proffitt, Robert Ragsdale, Greg Reaves, Phil Robertson, and Clem Welsh.

THS Golfers Approach Mid-Season with 4-1 Record; Expect to Rank in State

Danny Millsaps, David Patton, David Peck, Pat Pack, and Ed May sparked the Wildcat Golf Team to a 4-1 record at the middle of the season. The linksmen won matches against Manchester, Warren County, and Franklin County. The one loss was to top-rated Murfreesboro. Top golfer thus far in the season is Danny Millsaps with a 76.2 stroke average. Having placed eighth in the state last year, Danny is looking forward to a better ranking this year. Holding the number two spot is David Peck with a 79.4 stroke average. Coach Dale Phelps has high hopes for his 72 Golf team winning district and regional matches and advancing to the state.

THS Cheerleaders Win Spirit Stick; Cheerleaders Vivaciously Try to Ignite THS Student Body

The high-spirited and high-jumping '72 squad of THS cheerleaders strives to bring the Cats and Kittens to winning seasons. To prepare cheers for this year, the squad went to Tennessee Tech last summer for a week of clinics. As the climax of an exciting week, the THS cheerleaders received the "Spirit Stick," a red, white, and black baton symbolizing the most pep and participation during the week.

This year's squad is composed of Deanna Shasteen, Lisa Nall, Julie Brown, Linda Webb, Debbie Narcates, Terese Smith, and Captain Beth Sanders. Mrs. Christine Bettis is the sponsor of this squad of THS spirit rousers.

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Council Scores Many Firsts for THS

The Student Council scored many firsts in the area of student privileges this year. One of these was the jukebox in the cafeteria, which provides enjoyment for students during lunch and detention hall. THS students were allowed to bring an outside date to selected dances during the year. Soft drinks were sold at a reduced rate to revive thirsty students after school. This was possible through the cooperation of the Dr. Pepper Company. School 'phone books were commercially printed for the first time this year.

Another major project of the Council was the initiation of a TASC workshop. About 170 students from area schools improved their leadership skills and understanding of people. Along with these new ideas the Council carried on its standing projects which include Homecoming festivities, a Halloween party, and the Sadie Hawkins Dance. Fund raising projects were selling football programs and a candy sale. The Council also assisted in planning assemblies.

The Inter-Club Council is composed of club and class presidents and the cheerleaders of THS. Its official function is to serve as mediator among school organizations. Matters and projects concerning clubs are brought before the council for discussion and approval. Sponsoring the council is Mr. Ronnie Murray.

The major project of the council this year was a $100 donation to the Tennessee Vocational School for Girls to be used for Christmas gifts. As a community project, members of the council wrote a series of articles for publication in the local paper to arouse public concern about the appalling condition of the city dog pound.

'72 Club Boosts Enthusiasm in Senior Projects

The '72 Club's first concern is the spirit in the Senior homerooms. They encourage the students to get more involved in Senior projects. By keeping the students informed on what the class is doing they are able to increase interest in their class as well as the school. For their money making project, the club sold red and black ties to Wildcat fans.

National Honor Society and Beta Club Raise Funds for School Projects

The Beta Club and National Honor Society initiated a busy year with the induction of new members and a fund raising project. Members sold doughnuts after school to raise funds for the Living Curriculum in Anaheim, California. The club donated $100 to help sponsor Mrs. Benek's trip to California to present THS's program. Giving daily morning devotions and presenting the Norman Trophy are also regular activities of the club.

Library Club Members Provide Indispensible Services for Other Students

Throughout the year, students hurrying to complete term papers and projects have been rescued time and again by the aid of the members of the Library Club. The members of this club donate much of their spare time to provide practical help to the school by performing the endless tasks necessary to keep the THS library in perfect working order.

Key Club Provides Student and Community Entertainment by Sponsoring

The Key Club co-sponsored the UT-Faculty basketball game and sold Halloween candy with the Kiwanis Club. They also sold cloth calendars and jar openers. The club made noticeable contributions to various projects including an indoor baseball mound and uniforms for the baseball team. The members will select a Key Club Sweetheart who will attend the district convention in the spring.

UT-Faculty Basketball Game Aided by Equally Ambitious Junior Civitans

The Junior Civitans co-sponsored the UT-Faculty Basketball game with the Key Club. Further indication of the club's enthusiasm for sports is shown through such projects as ushering at football games and introducing players at basketball games. Junior Civitan fund raising projects include sponsoring the Homecoming Dance and selling doughnuts. The members organized a "fun day" for underprivileged children of the community. Another service of the club is raising and lowering the flag each day.

French Club Members Study and Practice Art of French Cooking

Crêpes Suzette, Napoleon Pie, and Wassail Punch are all a part of the menu of the French Club Christmas Party. Members of the club brought different dishes featuring French pastry and dessert. French Christmas Carols were sung as entertainment. The members also sponsored a French Dinner in honor of Mrs. Betty Belz, former sponsor of the club.

Latin Club Relives Roman Past Through Filmstrips

The Latin Club, sponsored by Mr. Bass, hosted several meetings to view filmstrips on Rome and Roman history. As a further study of Rome, Mrs. Chunn spoke to the club on her visit to the capital of Italy. To increase their use and understanding of Latin terminology, the members worked crossword puzzles in Latin.

Past and Present World Events Capture Interest of History Club

Student interest in all facets of history was displayed this year as the History Club hosted several guest speakers. Among them were Mr. Richard Hawkins, who spoke on his recent trip to England, and Mr. Paul Pyle, who gave a slide presentation of the history of Tullahoma. Other programs included a "This Is Your Life" skit about Henry VIII written and produced by students.

(Right) Cast members Phyllis Pratt, Kathy Miller, Barbara Tuthill, Susan Thompson, and Gail Abbott chat while Carolyn Sweeney and Carolyn Majors turn their charms on Mr. Kenneth Mott. Future Teachers Honor Faculty With Banquet, Tea, Appreciation Week

The Future Teachers of America, sponsored by Mrs. Elise Bass and Mrs. Pat Jones, carried out various projects honoring the faculty of the school. Again this year, the members gave apples to teachers during FTA Week. Also, a tea was given in honor of the faculty. FTA members served refreshments to parents and gave needed directions on parent-teacher conference days. During the winter, the club hosted a joint meeting with the Franklin County FTA with the State FTA Consultant as the guest speaker. The Club ended the year's activities with a May Day Supper for the teachers.

THS Chapters of Future Homemakers Host Burnett Sub-Regional Meeting

Over one hundred FHA girls from the Burnett Sub-Region gathered at THS for their fall meeting. The THS girls presented a fashion show in which members of Chapter II, sponsored by Mrs. Laura Haynes, modeled outfits which they had constructed, while members of Chapter I, sponsored by Miss Trellis Northam, presented a skit.

FHA members of both chapters made doll clothing as a service project for the Firemen who annually distribute Christmas toys to needy children. Additional service projects performed by the members of Chapter I were preparing fruit baskets for the Meadows for Thanksgiving and sending cookies for a party at the Veterans Hospital in Murfreesboro. Chapter I members also entertained the children of the faculty with a Christmas party. A fund-raising project of the club was the selling of cookbooks with Chapter II showing the greatest amount of sales.

FBLA Week Highlights Club's work to Promote Field of Business

FBLA Week came as a climax to a year of hard work in promoting interest at THS in the field of Business. The week was highlighted with the crowning of Miss FBLA, LaDonna Rader. During the week, FBLA and TOEC sponsored a fashion show for members of the clubs, morning devotions, and an informal tea for the faculty. A poster contest, tours of the Business Department, and an assembly program were used to stimulate interest among the students.

Fund raising projects of the club consisted of the Tom Wat sales drive and the THS Supply Store. Money from these projects was used for cash donations to girls at the Vocational School to buy Christmas gifts and to purchase Christimas gifts for the Tullahoma Day Care Center. The club also contributed money toward the purchase of baseball uniforms. The annual Christmas Banquet was sponsored jointly with TOEC in the school cafeteria. Top salesmen in the Tom Wat drive were honored and entertainment was provided for the members of both clubs.

TOEC Receives Club of the Year Award in Regional Competition

The THS Chapter of TOEC, sponsored by Mrs. Judy West, has proven a swinging success in its first year by receiving the Club of the Year Award in regional competition. TOEC provides great opportunities for office education students to improve their skills and enjoy their learning. Club members worked hard on many projects including a homecoming car that took second place, a Christmas banquet, the Tom-Wat Sales Campaign, a pet show for the convalescent home, and an open house for businessmen and school personnel.

Members of the club entered regional competition at Motlow and received several high honors. Belinda Tomlin placed first as spokesman for Club of the Year, Gwen Holden received second place for the Yearbook, Glinna Hess was second in shorthand, Shwanda Lawson received second place for printing calculator, and Kathy Heroth placed third in student of the year.

Vica Members Learn Industrial Skills In On-Job Training Programs

Vica members are students interested in learning new industrial skills and improving their talents for the future. Students enrolled in the new vocational courses except office education can be a member. The club had several projects such as selling Wildcat T-shirts, decorating the Christmas tree, and delivering Christmas food baskets. Several of the members competed in the local Vica Contest in Nashville.

Future Thespians Show Versatility in Performing A Variety of Roles

An interest in children's theatre led the drama class, members of the Entertainers Club, to prepare several programs for the other Tullahoma schools during the spring semester. Mother Goose characters were prevalent in the lower elementary production. A fai y tale theme prevailed in the upper grade plays. A one act play and dramatic monologue were presented to the junior high schools. Music and singing were also parts of each performance, serving as an interlude between plays. Mrs. Rebecca Chunn sponsors the Entertainers and is the drama class instructor.

Diligent, Creative Staff Publishes 1972 Resumé— Largest in THS History

Patience, hard work and initiative are yearround characteristics of the annual staff. Grease pencils, layouts, copy, and headlines combine with busy editors, staff members, and sponsor to create a 260 page annual. Through creativity and determination, blank pages are transformed into records of the year's events and memories for years to come.

Press Club Leaders Work Very Diligently in 71-72 To Achieve Superior Rating

The Press Club contributes to THS by publishing the school newspaper, The Echo. This year the Echo Staff published nine issues and one literary edition. For the second consecutive year, the Echo received a superior rating from the Tennessee High School Press Association. The staff stays very organized under the leadership of its editors Marilyn Plunk, Senior Editor, and Debbie Noland, Junior Editor (at right).

Each year the club's other responsibilities include weekly announcements on the outdoor sign and presenting the Keller Trophy to an outstanding Senior basketball player.

The members of the five Echo staffs are chosen by their performance during tryouts. Their able sponsors, Mrs. Chunn and Mrs. McClure (below) exhibit great understanding and cooperation as they strive to make each publication more appealing to the readers.

As a climax to their year of hard work, the members are given a dinner where the qualified seniors receive letters of merit. The Tullahoma News presents an award to the "Outstanding Journalist" of the year. This past summer, several of the staff editors of the Echo attended the U. T. Workshop for Journalists in Knoxville where they learned many new skills to improve the newspaper.

Biblical Study, Scripture Readings, and Prayer, Main Activities of New Club, Christian Fellowship

The Christian Fellowship, a new club to THS this year, was organized by students who desired Christian friendship within the school. The members met daily at school for prayer and also congregated at each other's homes for fellowship. Studying the Bible, interpreting scriptures, and praying were the main objectives of the club. Activities planned included Christmas caroling and visiting ill and invalid persons.

Radio Club Airs "Wildcat World" to Keep Students Informed

"Wildcat World," a weekly radio program for THS students, has been presented throughout the year by members of the Radio Club. The program is sponsored by Mr. Ronnie Murray and Mrs. Mary Alice Smith. The half-hour program which features THS mascots Wilma and Willy Wildcat is filled with information on clubs, sports, and social events.

Chorus Provides Proper Musical Training for Talented Students

Musical talents are discovered and refined in chorus class. Every day at fifth period, the THS chorus trains under the direction of Max Weaver and is accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Blanche McClure.

Singing all kinds of songs from popular to old favorites, these students have entertained during assemblies at school, at football games, and for organizations such as the Tullahoma Woman's Club and the PTA. The chorus has also proved its outstanding ability by performing with the school band in April for a public concert.

Community Entertainment Provided by Stage Band

The THS Stage Band hosted the second annual Jazz Festival, featuring the Tech Troubadours and solo drummer, Darrell Goes. Approximately twenty-two bands from four states participated in the festival. Members of the two stage bands also provided music for a fashion show, the "Miss Tullahoma" Contest, Tennessee Vocational School, and various assembly programs.

Concert and Parade Competition Rounds out Year for THS Band

A trip to Knoxville to enter in competition was the climax of the year for THS band students. Aside from regular halftime performances at football games, the THS Marching Band led the Homecoming and Christmas parades.

After the hustle and bustle of marching season, the band settles down for the busy concert season. Mike Tidwell received the John Philip Sousa Trophy, an award for the most outstanding and diligent band member, during the March concert.

CURRICULUM

Pausing from his daily duties as Principal, Mr. McClure reflects on the complexities of his job.

Administrative Staff Coordinates Affairs As Nucleus of School

The clicking of keys and "May I have your attention, please . . ." are samples of the sounds that come from the THS office. Among busy secretaries, announcements, and static electricity from the carpet, the office is kept jumping. Conducting this busy department, Principal Creed McClure keeps the school running smoothy. Mr. Jack Jolly runs a close second in authority and leadership as Assistant-Principal.

The office could not function without the competent help of the three secretaries. Mrs. Ruth Throneberry takes care of business and office work while Mrs. Dorothy Culbertson helps to coordinate all affairs. Mrs. Carol Russell, always willing to type last minute tests and handouts, serves as a teachers' aide.

Student Planning Stems From Guidance Office

Class schedules, college preparation, and personal problems give the guidance office plenty to do. As the main office is the center of school activities, the guidance office is the center for individuals' interests and needs. Along with counseling and scheduling classes, Mrs. Clara Garrison's primary job is college preparations, while Mr. Mike Stanton's main objective is to coordinate affairs in the vocational field. With the new vocational wing at THS, Mr. Stanton has been able to work on a larger scale. An experimental project of Mr. Stanton's is the growth group sessions involving discussions of student problems. Without Mrs. Lorraine Williams, the guidance office would be hectic. She organizes files, takes telephone messages, and greets visitors with a smile.

Working in connection with the guidance office is Miss Sue Blair. She schedules and teaches classes for students in Special Education. This is the first year that classes for these students have been offered at THS.

Mrs. Williams is kept busy with the codification of student schedule cards.

Miss Blair gives last minute test instructions to Glynda Anderson.

Mr. Stanton conducts "rap sessions," an innovation to the guidance office this year, with students from study hall.

Cafeteria and Maintenance Crew Perform Essential Tasks in Operation of THS

With the addition of the juke box in the cafeteria, students enjoy lunch in a livelier and more relaxed atmosphere. However, for Mrs. Virginia Batts it only adds more noise to her hectic job of feeding 900 students. For five days a week, the cafeteria staff begins early in the morning preparing biscuits and baking cookies. After lunch the problem of cleaning the hundreds of dishes and scouring the huge kitchen remains.

Mr. Nathan Caudle comes in handy to sweep the cafeteria floors and empty the trashcans. Mr. Caudle keeps the school clean and in order throughout the day, while after school hours a larger maintenance crew comes on duty to sweep classrooms, empty wastecans, vacuum carpets, and perform other endless chores in cleaning the school.

Mrs. Buena Owens and Mrs. Alverine Preston prepare hot lunches for students.

Library Provides Complete Study Facilities Along With Efficient Staff

The Library serves as the mainstay of study activities. Students may readily obtain periodicals and daily newspapers as well as complete reference materials. While members of the Library Club help to perform some of the necessary tasks for the functioning of the library, Mrs. Myrtle Burchett and Mrs. Sara Ray aid students in the selection of books and needed reference materials.

Mr. Verlon Fuller maintains order over study hall and also teaches a night health class. Mr. Fuller, a new addition to THS faculty, enlivens each day for study hall members with his brilliant shirts and ties. Study hall members are allowed to use the library, sleep, talk quietly, or even study.

Study of Foreign Languages Increases Understanding and Communicative Skills

To increase the understanding of our own language and provide international communication, THS offers students a choice of three foreign languages. Mr. Francis Bass teaches Latin I and II and sponsors the Latin Club. Mrs. Edna Madden, Spanish club advisor, offers students two years of Spanish, while Mrs. Betty Belz and Miss Emily Habel, sponsors of the French club, instruct French I, II, and III. Miss Habel assumed Mrs. Belz's position when she retired at mid-term. Each language teacher concentrates on emphasizing the culture and geography of the respective country as well as the language.

These students revealed their musical talent as they were accepted to the listed honor organizations: Diana Jack, All-State Band; Mitzi Martinez, All-State Band; Marilyn Hazelip, All-State Chorus; Mike Tidwell, Mid-State Band; and Neil Rutland, All-State Band.

Fine Arts Provide Outlet for Creative Students

THS provides a large assortment of fine art courses. Mr. Max Weaver conducts both the band and stage band as well as chorus and general music classes. Five of Mr. Weaver's students received special recognition on being accepted to the All-State and Mid-State Band and Chorus. Mrs. Jimmie Lou Smith furnishes a creative outlet for the budding artists as the Art II, III, and IV teacher. The artists spend time drawing, painting, and sculpting. Several classes also design and make pottery. Mrs. Rebecca Chunn instructs journalism, speech, and drama courses. The journalism classes are encouraged to try out for the school paper. THE ECHO, another of Mrs. Chunn's responsibilities. The speech class works on correct speaking techniques and debating, while the drama students strive for effective acting. This year both the speech and drama students participated in the Tennessee High School Forensic Contest.

Inevitably, the band hits a sour note which is acknowledged by Mr. Weaver's look of distaste. (Top right) While Cathy Williams smiles agreeingly, Mrs. Smith (right) points out the techniques of proper style in watercolors.

"Living Curriculum" Adds New Dimension to English Classes

Castles, cathedrals, costumes, and wood carvings—all inspired by readings in literature—add a seasoning to the English curriculum. This mode of teaching, designed to stimulate creativity and interest in classroom work, has been appropriately termed "living curriculum." Under the direction of Mrs. Pat Jones and Mrs. Lorine King, senior English assumes a new dimension with the living curriculum. Plays, complete with costumes; original ballads set to music; and castles, designed to scale are only some of the products sparked by this innovation.

The living curriculum method, developed by the THS English staff, is now a nationwide practice. Our English department was honored by being chosen to participate in the living curriculum presentation in Anaheim, California.

Henrietta Schneider and Janice Williams portray characters from the novel Canterbury Tales.

Linda Gray completes a bulletin board, depicting April activities, for Mrs. King.

Cathi Fergus puts the finishing touches on her bulletin board.

Dennis Urbaniak models his profile for Dorothy Snoddy and Amy Hankins in order to finish a MacBeth comic book.

Mitzi Martinez and Ann Mealy give a live performance of a medieval joust from Idylls of the King.

Literature "Comes Alive" With Living Curriculum

The living curriculum, introduced to THS this year, brings a new phase of teaching to the English department. Literature "comes alive" as student participation and interest grow. Mrs. Donna Benek and Miss Virginia Woodall, junior English teachers, correlate American literature to the American history course. Plays, mock interviews, and imaginary television shows increase understanding and provide an intensified look at our American heritage and culture. Mrs. Elise Bass, Coach David Duvall, and Mrs. Peggy Stelpflug instruct sophomores in a medley of American and English literature and in grammar. Students participate in panel discussions, skits, and various other visual aid projects.

This year the English department was chosen as one of five schools in Tennessee to present the "living curriculum" program in Anaheim, California. Mrs. Benek traveled with Principal Creed McClure to California for the presentation.

Mathematics Staff Offers Students a Variety of Courses

Geometry, algebra, practical and advanced math compose the mixture of courses offered at THS. Good teachers and this variety of courses combine to provide students with a strong background in math. Mrs. Marcia Kemp, Nike Club sponsor, teaches algebra I, geometry, and one class of English II. Algebra II and geometry are taught by Mr. Homer Layne, while Mr. Bob Crosslin has geometry and advanced math courses. Mr. Layne and Mr. Crosslin jointly sponsor the math club. Coach Tony Matusek, assistant football coach, instructs algebra II and practical mathematics.

This spring twenty-three students participated in four of the various categories at the Sewanee math contest. Thirteen of the twenty-three students placed within the top ten in their divisions.

Jerry Farrar proves a geometry theorem on the board for his classmates.

Pat Welsh listens as Mr. Crosslin explains a difficult math problem.

Following laboratory procedures with goggles and aprons, Dennis Hardaway (Top Right) and Tommy Gillard experient with chemical reactions. (Above) After a careful dissection of the Ascaris worm, Margaret Carroll and Marilyn Hazelip make extra studies with microscopes and drawings. (Right) Mr. Ronnie Coleman checks grades as the six weeks draws to a close.

Mr. Murray instructs first year biology students, Bobby Luckado, Mark Seely, and David Byrd, on the anatomy of the earthworm.

After a grueling chemistry exam, Mrs. Weaver compiles and staples test papers.

Sciences Lend Themselves To Student Investigation And Experimentation

Dissection, microscopes, chemical experiments, and pulleys can only lead one to the science department. Advanced biology students, instructed by Mr. Ronald Coleman and Mr. Ronald Murray, probe and dissect the parts of sharks and cats. Mr. Coleman and Mr. Murray tutor their first year biology students in the dissection of the Ascaris worm and earthworm. Mrs. Jane Weaver teaches the basics of chemistry and prepares laboratory experiments. The classes venture into the lab at least once a week to explore the mysteries of crystalization, ionization, and others. Along with computations of valence problems, students learn the use of the slide rule.

For further investigation of the sciences, Mr. Bob Crosslin, a member of the mathematics department, teaches physics. Experiments employing pulleys, levers, inclined planes, and force boards excite the daily classroom work.

Kathy Miller and Ann Marbury locate battle sites of the Civil War on a United States map.

Mr. Pearson points out Asian countries to the class.

History Department Accents Involvement and Interest in Studies

With the accent on student interest, the history staff endeavors to stimulate a concern in past cultures and our American heritage. Swamped with projects, political terms, and maps, students are provided with every opportunity to learn.

Mr. Kenneth Mott entices his American history students with vivid stories and didactic lectures and parallels his reading assignments with the English department's coverage of American literature. Mr. Richard Hawkins and Mr. Stanley Pearson find time to teach both American and world history. Mr. Hawkins, an avid Senior class sponsor, is a valuable asset to pupils as he is an expert on the Civil War. Mr. Pearson, assistant boys' basketball coach, couples the use of visual aids, such as slides and films, with cartographic skills to season his extensive lectures.

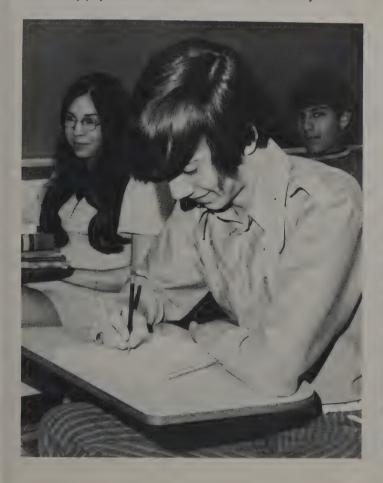

Mr. Hawkins strikes his famous pose as he lectures to the class.

Amy McGee (Above) and Debbie Gray locate countries and continents on the globe for geography. Coach Carden (Right) shows Patti Fry and Charlene Buck the errors in their income tax returns.

Mr. Tom Garrison, supervisor of secondary curriculum, talks to an American government class about the functions and problems of operating city schools.

Emily Pless (Top) grades geography papers for Coach Garner. Mr. Raymond Bettis (Below) labor union leader, lectures students on the effect of labor unions.

Social Sciences Offer Key to Present and Future

A comprehension of our present cultures and a key to the future are necessary elements of every society. Knowledge of civilizations of the world affords a greater appreciation and understanding of our own society. Coach Kelton Garner provides a basic background of cultures with geography and sociology courses. Geography students learn not only the location and topography of foreign countries but also the rudiments of their civilizations. Coach Garner emphasizes the nature of culture and their institutions through sociology. Furnishing an insight into the administration of the United States, Coach Garner also teaches classes of American government.

A further understanding of the American financial system is provided by Coach Milner Carden's economics course. Students learn about capitalism, income tax, and other fiscal matters. Coach Carden, track coach, also teaches two world history classes.

Physical Education Staff Stresses Athletics and Exercise for a Sound Body

The field of physical education at THS encompasses more than merely exercises as students soon realize. Regular athletics as well as exercise keep students in shape throughout the year. Mrs. Christine Bettis directs girls' P.E. classes and also serves as the sponsor for the cheerleaders. Girls participate in a variety of sports, such as track, tennis, and football, while dancing and tumbling are also part of the program. Despite busy activities with the Wildkittens' basketball team, Coach Tommy Whitaker instructs boys' physical education. Boys enjoy activities of baseball, gymnastics, volleyball, and many other sports. Coach Whitaker has an added responsibility this year as the new tennis coach.

Driver Education Staff Emphasizes Safety Through Correct Driving Skills

As a regular part of the curriculum, driver's education offers students a chance to learn the fundamentals of driving as well as actual experience under the careful eye of one of THS's two qualified instructors, Coach Hulan Watson and Coach Dale Phelps. Classroom work, assimulator practice, and driving training are blended to give students complete driver's education. Both Coach Watson and Coach Phelps emphasize the proper rules and procedures of driving with careful attention to safety and the laws governing driving. Coach Watson, new to the THS faculty, heads the coaching staff for the Wildcat football squad, while Coach Phelps serves as head coach for the Wildcat basketball team.

Home Economics Prepares Girls for Domestic Life

A chance to settle down to the domestic tasks of life, the home economics courses cover various subjects from child care to consumer education. Mrs. Laura Haynes teaches home ec. to sophomores; and Miss Trellis Northam educates girls in junior, senior, and occupational home ec. Girls learn to cook, sew, manage a household, and care for children. The classes sponsor frequent parties to which students may bring a small child. These children are placed in full responsibility of the pupils with guidance from Mrs. Haynes or Miss Northam. Discussions on dating are a regular part of the sophomore home ec. curriculum. Boys from THS are asked to talk with the girls and answer questions on this subject. The occupational home ec. course, set up to prepare girls for gainful employment as child care aids after graduation, covers background on personal and child development and actual working experience in community nursery and day care centers.

Cathy St. Clair and Debbie Fisher explore the mystery of changing a typewriter ribbon.

Phyllis Barber (Above) pauses to correct an error in her typing. Mrs. McClure (Right) explains the use of the transcribing machine to Susan Griffith.

Commercial Expansion Creates Greater Emphasis On Business Education

With the rapidly expanding world of commerce comes a greater emphasis on business education and a demand for well-trained employees, and THS provides a balance of business education courses to meet these needs. Miss Fredia Flack teaches typing I, personal typing, and general business classes. Miss Flack always finds time to help students individually and encourages them through the first difficult weeks of typing with her energetic voice.

Mrs. Sylvia Garner instructs general business and accounting courses. Mrs. Garner also serves as the sponsor for the Resume. Typing I and II classes and shorthand are taught by Mrs. Blanche McClure. Mrs. McClure, a sponsor for THE ECHO, keeps pupils "eating, sleeping, and breathing" shorthand. Students receive further secretarial training through her typing classes.

Cosmetology and Office Education Prepare Girls For World of Work

Preparation for a world of work is one goal of high school. To help reach this goal, several new vocational courses have been added to the THS curriculum. Two of these are cosmetology and office occupation.

Under the instruction of Mrs. Mary Alice Smith, girls taking cosmetology learn in salon-type situations the art of bringing beauty to life. In a three-hour period each day, students learn and practice cutting and styling hair, manicuring and other grooming skills.

Serious secretarial work is the aim of students in office occupation, taught by Mrs. Judy West. Anticipating a career in office work, the girls study secretarial and clerical fundamentals. To aid the students in mastering typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping, machines, such as dictaphones, duplicators, typewriters, and adding machines are provided. Upon graduation from high school, students in this course are prepared for full time jobs in offices.

Mrs. Smith (Right) demonstrates proper hair rolling procedures to Debbie Marks on one of the manequins. The office education room (Below) provides the needed equipment and practice necessary in secretarial training.

Students Receive Vocational Training in Auto Mechanics and Electronics Courses

Students, mechanically and electronically minded, find the make-up of a car motor and the workings of house-hold appliances fascinating. To harness their thought power and train it to deal specifically in one field, two courses, auto mechanics and electronics, are available for these students at THS.

Guaranteeing two full credits a year, auto mechanics trains boys for engine repair, wheel alignment, and transmission work. It is taught two hours a day for juniors and three hours a day for seniors by Mr. Ike Turner.

Also a two-credit course, electronics, instructed by Mr. I. D. Smith, is a terminal course taught under the same hourly conditions as auto mechanics and prepares students for work in electricity, appliance, radio, and television repair.

As both courses are vocational, upon completion of school, auto mechanics and electronics students are eligible for garage work as entry mechanics and repair service as electricians.

Industrial Arts and ICT Offer Training With a Career in Clear Sight

High School holds opportunities for many individuals. To complete high school and immediately go into a full time job is an ideal situation for the student of today. ICT and Industrial Arts classes prepare students for such an opportunity.

Under the careful guidance of Mr. Max Huddleston, students taking Industrial Co-operative Training, are involved in a work-study program or morning classes and an outside job in the afternoon.

A similar course for non-college bound students is vocational drafting, taken by boys and girls alike. This course prepares the student for employment in the field of drafting immedately after graduation. The class is held two hours a day for juniors and three hours a day for seniors. Teaching vocational drafting this year is Mr. Jerry Mathis.

Mechanical drawing is rewarding for the student interested in drafting techniques in that it is a college preparatory course. This class, taught by Mr. Robert Wiser, is for students interested in careers such as engineering or architecture. Mr. Wiser also teaches shop which involves wood working, electricity, power mechanics and projects with sheet metal.

Herein lies the truthfulness of the future— its validity or fallacy. . .

These minds, these hands, surely the tools to suffice.

ADVERTISEMENTS

The yearbook staff wishes to express its appreciation to all who contributed to the production of the 1972 RESUME.

A special vote of thanks goes to the following:

Mr. Creed McClure, Principal

THE TULLAHOMA NEWS

Mr. Stan Pearson, Photographer

Mr. Ed Delbridge, Mr. Sam Causey, Mr. Sam Littleton, Mr. Jim Bevins, and Mr. Larry Ralston, of Delbridge Studio, Murfreesboro, Tennessee

Mr. Earl Ridenour of McEachern Bros. Studio, Loudon, Tennessee

Mr. Bob Couch, Photographer

Mr. Joe Coleman and Mr. Carlton Boegel of McQuiddy Printing Co., Nashville, Tennessee

To all those who advertised in the yearbook, the staff is grateful. The advertisers' support deserves the support of the students!

downs, o can honestly day that else a can think of you have been an excellent teacher, and people euse you, wid be in a in the world, and after sleve é a get hutched, sa lone to visit of ence to you in the your to PS. Tranks for the holp Ginny, in getting my yob.

Gudey 7, thing, but I really do appreciate everything you've done for one this year. you are really more than just a teacher, now he a "darn" good friend. I hope that just because screel is out I wan't loose contact with you. I'll try to remember went it won't loose contact with you. I'll try to remember wenthing you've tought me. Yet just the class work, but the basics of life too. I feel that because of you fin a lot better person, all manks some day I'll be able to repary you for all that you've done for you. Due to remember me and that you've done for you. Due to remember me and all the times we've laughed together; life is to short and ead to forest any of those. Many
